

ITCHING AND BURNING RASH

Started on Chest. Then on Left Shoulder and Arm. Nearly Driven Crazy. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. Rid of Rash.

304 Anawan St., Fall River, Mass.—
"My trouble started mostly on the front of my body and on my chest. It was just brown spots at first and it looked like freckles, and then they seemed to run together and they looked like a rash of some kind. It did not trouble me for almost a year and then my upper lip and my face right near my eye broke out and it was itching and burning all the time. I used on it and it dried it up, but that was not some good when the same rash broke out on my left shoulder and on my left arm and I could not do anything. I scratched and it made it go into sores on my back and face. My clothing irritated it something awful. I could not bear anything to touch my back at all for two weeks and it would make it itch and burn so badly I would cry out and have to take my clothes off."

"I tried—and that did not do any good. I thought I would go out of my head this way I was. But after I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment they seemed to ease me. I only used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and it took two months to get rid of the eruption." (Signed) Mrs. Edith F. Silva, Apr. 12, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c, and Cuticura Ointment 50c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address: "Cuticura," Dept. 7, Boston, Mass.

"32 Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp."

STAFFORD SPRINGS

Mrs. Frank Rousseau Victim of Man Pretending to Be Her Missing Husband.

A special from New Bedford, Mass., Saturday said:
Mrs. Frank Rousseau of Stafford Springs, Conn., complained to the police today that she had been deceived by a man who had been deceived by a stranger who, in replying to advertisements, represented himself as her husband, who had been missing for 15 years.

Since her husband's disappearance Mrs. Rousseau has spent her time in seeking for him by travel and advertisements. In response to the stranger's alleged representations Mrs. Rousseau came here, bringing with her household furniture, only to discover that she had been deceived.

A HAPPY CHILD IN JUST A FEW HOURS.

When Croup, Croup, or if Feverish Give "California Syrup of Figs" Then Don't Worry.

Mother can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs" to her child. In a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels and your child is happy, healthy and content. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When croup, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "Fruit Laxative." Children love it and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—whether full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomachache, bad breath, remember a gentle "Fruit Laxative" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" and take it carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

RAILROAD THIEVES AT WESTERLY

Two Young Men Held For Breaking and Entering Freight Car—Combs and Brushes Taken—James Benson Again in Trouble—New Industry at Kenyon Mill—Bishop Babcock Owns The Dunes, Watch Hill.

Special Policeman John Thompson of Bradford captured a couple of thieves in that village Friday night that are of the grade that may be tried in the United States district court, their offense coming within the jurisdiction of that high court. These chaps are under arrest for breaking and entering a freight car and committing larceny therefrom, which is punishable under act of congress of February, 1913, by a fine not exceeding $5,000 and imprisonment of not more than ten years or both. The law department of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company in order to check this sort of thing, wants to take the case to the federal court and there is no objection on the part of the local police department, although the state courts are given preference. So Policeman Thompson's birds are caged in the cells of the Western station, awaiting the arrival of the United States marshal.

Policeman Thompson saw two young fellows acting suspiciously in the village Friday night and he advanced towards them and as he was about to take them into custody they disappeared in the darkness. Then the officer decided to make further investigation and finally succeeded in rounding up the pair. He soon became satisfied that they were not in the village for the good of the village. Before concluding to take them to the Western police station, six miles away, Bradford being in the town of Westerly, and Thompson an adjunct of the Western police force, he called Police Constable John Catto into consultation and they decided to take the fellows to Westerly. A team was procured and the journey made, arriving in Westerly just after midnight.

Sergeant Edward E. West was in charge at the station. The pair gave their names as David Shapiro, age 17, and Louis Miller, age 16, and New York as their home town. They were handcuffed and their principal effects were two brushes and six combs, with a razor.

sterling silver backs and of exquisite design. They told the old story of finding the articles. The story did not go with Sergeant West, entered into Shapiro's weakness and acknowledged that they were taken from a freight car, but not until after the two express receipts found among their effects were produced, showing that they had forwarded from Bradford by express to New York, two packages, one weighing eight and the other seven pounds, which they finally said contained brushes and combs of the same style held by the police. One package was sent by Louis Miller and addressed to Sam Miller, 133 Essex street, New York, and the other, sent by David Shapiro, addressed to Mr. Becker, 138 Essex street, rear house, New York.

Chief of Police Thomas E. Brown became active in the case. It was learned that by reason of a hot box a freight train taken from a regular receipted car on Thursday afternoon and placed on Chapman siding. When the car was picked up later in the afternoon it was found that the seal of the door had been broken and the car entered. A case containing valuable sterling silver hair brushes and combs, with Chicago as destination and shipped from Boston, had been smashed and nearly all the contents removed. The Miller family of the village, who had been in New York were held up and Chief Keamers and Detective King of the railroad force were provided in connection with the case and had a talk with the prisoners, who again confessed their guilt. Shapiro and Miller in response to a query from Chief Brown acknowledged being in Westerly making inquiries for a cheap lodging house and that they had spent Thursday night in a fire house on the Connecticut side of the river, where they were entertained.

They told in the fire house that they were going to New London but instead walked towards Providence. They spotted the sealed car on the siding and, said Shapiro, "We took a chance and here we are."
